Kat Fukui
Product Designer   katfukui.com   katherinefukui@gmail.com

EDUCATION

Sept 2009– June 2013

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, DAVIS
B.A. in Visual Design and Japanese.

SKILLS

Tools
Sketch
Adobe Suite
InVision
Keynote

Development
HTML, CSS, JS
Sass
Git, GitHub
Responsive Web

Methods
User Research
User Flows
Storytelling
Wireframing
Motion Graphics

Other
Branding
Style Guides
Copywriting

AWARDS

AIGA ENRICHMENT SCHOLARSHIP
UC Davis recipient at AIGA Portfolio Day 2013. Awarded to upcoming designers in order to improve their design education.

EXPERIENCE

Sep– Dec 2015

SEQUOIA CAPITAL
Design Fellow

I worked in the Sequoia Creative Lab with James Buckhouse and another fellow to learn how to make successful products. We worked on internal projects and sprinted on product designs for portfolio companies. I learned to create compelling stories for products and to be more courageous with my designs.

Mar 2014– Sep 2015

EVERLAW
Product Designer

Owned all aspects of design at Everlaw, a legal document review platform. Used analytics and user feedback to refine existing products for usability and improve interfaces. Worked on user flows, wireframes, and interactive prototypes for new products. Iterated based on feedback. Implemented responsive web design practices. Created visual design guidelines to make sure brand voice and image was consistent. Successfully delivered a complete rebranding and UI redesign with the engineering team.

Mar 2014– Sep 2015

STORIES OF SOLIDARITY
UI/UX Designer

Developed a non-profit, progressive social media and data visualization platform for precarious workers and labor organizations to produce awareness and solidarity in the workplace. Created a strong brand and identity. Researched effective interfaces and built prototypes for the web app and smart devices with HTML, CSS, and jQuery.